READY FOR EARLY JANUARY

It's "P" for Penticton or "P" for new car licence plates. They're not on sale yet but they will be early in January. Mrs. A. Haglof, member of the provincial government staff at Penticton Court House, says motorists should remember the date and make their application early. "It will save you a lot of waiting around if you pick up your plates early — and the licence department a lot of headaches". The new plates are green and brown, and, as you have to get them anyway, make it early in the New Year.

Packers Ask Kitchener For Player Assistance

KITCHENER (CP) — Kelowna help, it was learned today. Dr. Mel Butler, executive member of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association arranging the Kelowna trip, telephoned Kitchener-Dutchmen of the Ontario Hockey Association-Northern Ontario Hockey Association senior series for player man and Bill Wylie for the three-week tour. Earlier this year the Dutchmen had offered to help the Packers in any way possible. "But we didn't expect him to ask us to assist the Packers on the eve of their departure," it should have been requested last summer.

"We are only allowed to carry 15 men this year," the K-W manager added. "Already we have one man injured. How can we carry out our commitments to our own fans and the league if we let anyone else leave?"

WHAT CAN WE EXPECT? "Then again, what assurance have we got and what can we expect in the way of replacement help? If we can find a replacement centre, the same player should be available to Kelowna," Jack MacKenzie, Dutchmen forward who flew to Kelowna last weekend to study the team's strength for the CAHA, also said today the Packers need about six players.

The club is weak down the centre and "unless they strengthen they are going to have a lot of trouble." The wingers and netminder looked good and the team is well-conditioned.

MacKenzie said he thought the Packers had lined up three of the six players they required, and added: "I don't think I was able to see anything the CAHA didn't already know."

Cardinal Roncalli Elected New Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Angelo Cardinal Roncalli was elected Pope today.

He became the 262nd supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church and its 500,000,000 followers.

The new Pope, Patriarch of Venice, is 76 years old.

Immediately after election in secret conclave by the Roman Church's College of Cardinals, the new pontiff chose the name John XXIII.

He succeeds Pope Pius XII who died just 17 days ago after a reign of 19 years and seven months, one of the longest in the 2,000-year history of the church.

MANY TITLES
The pontiff's titles, as officially listed by the church are:

"Bishop of Rome, Vicar of Jesus Christ, Successor of the Prince of the Apostles, Supreme Pontiff of the Universal Church, Patriarch of the West, Primate of Italy, Archbishop of Metropolitan of the Province of Rome and Sovereign of the State of Vatican City."

The date of the coronation for the new Pope was not immediately announced. It is expected that a week or more will be required to give representatives of foreign states time to attend. The coronation of Pius XII took place 10 days after his election.

The coronation is one of the most colorful ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church.

But after that, the new Pope, who follows one of the most energetic pontiffs in the history of the church, faces heavy burdens.

One of the most immediate could well be the thinned ranks of the College of Cardinals that today elected him supreme pontiff. There are only 53 cardinals, with 17 vacancies in the college.

As the chief pastor of the Roman Catholic Church, the Pope wields a spiritual influence unparalleled on each. He also is the Church's supreme legislator, teacher, judge and administrator.

BELLS RING
The bells of St. Peter's Basilica rang joyfully, led by its giant master bell.

The throng in the square cheered hoarsely and madly, waving handkerchiefs wildly.

They had been so tense that it was difficult for them to restrain themselves and become silent when the doors of the balcony opened after the long wait.

The new Pope, bald-headed and benign looking, has been one of the most popular prelates in Italy. He also has many friends abroad, particularly in France where he spent eight years as papal nuncio.

He has a sturdy health and is an untiring worker. His affable manners and quick-witted conversation have made him a well-known figure at many diplomatic receptions.

New Trial Delay Appears Likely

By H. L. JONES

Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson said today that only former land and forest minister Robert Sommers had the authority in the issuance of government timber licences.

The justice charging the jury on the main count of conspiracy against Sommers, three other individuals and four firms said the fact that Sommers was directed by Premier Bennett had nothing to do with it.

"If he Sommers is responsible here he cannot escape by reason of the fact that he improperly accepted direction by the premier."

The judge's reference was to previous evidence that a forest management licence was granted to one of the accused firms, B.C. Forest Products Limited, in 1955 after Sommers had conferred with the premier about it.

The Crown alleges that B.C. Forest paid $30,000 in bribe money for the licence.

As the judge continued his address on the 72nd day of the trial a new delay appeared likely. One of the jurors whose wife is due to enter hospital, probably Thursday, for a serious operation expressed a wish to see her just before she goes to surgery.

Mr. Justice Wilson said once he had finished his charge on conspiracy the jury would be put in custody and would not be permitted to separate until the end of the case.

He said, however, that if the juror's wife was going into hospital Thursday he could defer the finish of his address until the juror had seen her.

He said the only other way would be for the juror to visit his wife with 11 other jurors and "I don't think that would be very satisfactory."

He indicated he will decide on the matter Wednesday, the day he was originally expected to wind up his charge on conspiracy and ask the jury for a verdict.

The justice told the jury that the crown's chief witness in the case, former Pacific Coast Services Limited bookkeeper Charles Eversfield, may on his own evidence be an accomplice.

He said the same applied to Trevor Daniels, former B.C. Forest chief financial officer, and to George Davenport, former accountant for C. D. Schultz Limited.

He told the jury it was for them to decide whether these such a sweepstakes in Canada.

Fined $50 on Driving Charge

George Peter Perepolkin, of Shoreacres, near Nelson, was fined $50 and costs by Magistrate R. A. Johnston in Summerland Police Court this morning after he pleaded guilty to driving a car without due care and attention.

The charge arose from an accident on Highway 97 at Penticton Bay near Peachland on Oct. 22. Perepolkin and an elderly hitch-hiking passenger were slightly shaken up when Perepolkin's truck rolled over. The truck sustained damages of $600.

Tory Wants Sweep Issue To be Studied

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Conservative member of parliament says he has asked for a parliamentary debate on a national hospitals sweepstakes in Canada at the next house session.

Fergie Brown, member for Vancouver-Kingsway, told a district conservative meeting Monday night that there are no "reasonable grounds" for opposing such a sweepstakes in Canada.

City Man Injured When Hit by Car

An elderly Penticton man is broken ankle and a broken clavicle is Francis Radcliffe, 79, 451 Churchill Avenue.

About 6:15 p.m. yesterday Mr. Radcliffe was crossing the intersection at Westminster and Martin, diagonally from the northeast to the south-west corner, when a car driven by Thomas Hart, 855 Vernon Avenue, Penticton, struck him.

Mr. Radcliffe's condition was reported as "good" this morning. RCMP are investigating the accident. No charges have been laid.

Woodworkers' Gov't Directed Strike Vote Set

VANCOUVER (CP) — An official of the labor department said here Monday that a government-supervised strike vote will be held Nov. 7 among 4,000 southern interior woodworkers.

The ballot follows rejection of a conciliation board report recommending two three-per cent wage increases over the next two years.

The workers, who are employed in about 35 southern interior lumber operations, have already voted overwhelmingly for a strike in a ballot conducted by International Woodworkers of America.

Another 3,500 IWA members in the northern interior have rejected a conciliation board report which proposed no pay increase on a one-year contract.

They also have voted for strike action, but a government-supervised ballot has not yet been requested.

Earl Alexander's Condition 'Serious'

OTTAWA (CP) — Earl Alexander of Tunis, 66-year-old former governor-general of Canada and wartime field marshal, is "serious-but-not-critical" condition in hospital here after suffering a heart attack, a medical bulletin said today.

A bulletin issued shortly before noon today by the Ottawa Civic Hospital which Lord Alexander entered Monday, said he spent a "restful night."

The bulletin said: "Field Marshal, the Rt. Hon. Earl Alexander of Tunis was admitted to the Ottawa Civic Hospital yesterday suffering from an acute coronary thrombosis. His condition this morning is serious but not critical after a restful night."

Lord and Lady Alexander had planned to return to England Nov. 1. Gen. Letson said their departure will be postponed for some time as Lord Alexander likely will be in hospital for a "matter of weeks."

Lord and Lady Alexander have been staying in Ottawa as guests of Maj.-Gen. Harry Letson, who served on Lord Alexander's staff while he was governor-general.

Gen. Letson said Lord Alexander, governor-general of Canada from 1946 to 1952, is suffering from coronary thrombosis. He said cardiologists have been taken to determine the extent of the attack.

It is believed Lord Alexander suffered the attack while he and Gen. Letson were duck shooting at Long Point, Ont., in the Lake Erie area.

EARL ALEXANDER

However, Gen. Letson said Lord Alexander was unaware of the attack at the time. He said he was in pain during the last few days in Ottawa.

Lord and Lady Alexander have been in Canada for 10 days. Prior to coming to Ottawa Sunday, they visited Montreal and Quebec City.

The shooting expedition to Long Point took place before the visits to Montreal and Quebec.

Lord Alexander's family in England has been informed. His son, Shane — Lord Rideau — is working in Montreal but has not yet arrived in Ottawa.

"Farce" Charge Shunned In Pumphouse Dispute

A misunderstanding regarding a pumphouse that was constructed on city property at Three Mile Beach apparently without permission, was satisfactorily cleared up at city council meeting last night although the discussion started off with some sharp words.

Mrs. J. Reading, suggesting that "this farce has gone on long enough," asked for an explanation why work had been stopped on a pumping installation for her and her husband's subdivision when the plans had been approved some time ago by council and the approval confirmed subsequently.

Ald. P. F. Eraut at once objected "to council meeting being called a farce and Mrs. Reading then explained she was not referring to the meeting but to the handling of the pumping plans.

After lengthy discussion it appeared that the Readings had been granted an easement for installation of two water lines across the road to the beach but this approval had been mistakenly understood to include authorization for construction of a pumphouse at the beach which is park property.

Had a building permit been applied for as demanded by city by-law for the pumphouse, its construction would not have been permitted.

Council pointed out that the pumps need not be located at the lake where they mar the view, but, with little extra cost, can be located on the subdivision property quite satisfactorily.

Mrs. Reading was also advised that she and her husband must apply to the B.C. Water Rights Branch to pump water from the lake.

CITY BROUGHT GREETINGS OF ROMAN MAYOR, COUNCIL

John A. M. Young, just returned from a trip to Europe, presented greetings and best wishes to Mayor C. E. Oliver and Penticton city council last night from the mayor and city council of Rome.

Mr. Young said he and his party including men from Winnipeg, Fort William and Vancouver, were particularly impressed with the lavishness of the Roman city council chambers and presented the mayor, a direct descendant of the inventor Marconi, with a replica of a CPR dome car.

Pictures of the interview were left with city council and will be available in Mayor Oliver's office for anyone who might wish to see them within the next week.

Plumbers Press Action For Examining Board

Mayor C. E. Oliver last night was urged to get busy and name the committee for setting up a master plumbers' examining board which city council instructed him to appoint three months ago.

The mayor explained that he had done nothing about the matter except bring it up at an informal committee meeting, because he hadn't been sure just what was expected of him.

After the purpose of the committee had been explained again, the mayor agreed to make the appointments by next Monday's meeting. Ald. H. M. Geddes, Ald. Elsie MacCleave and Ald. F. P. McPherson volunteered to serve.

BRISBANE, Australia (Reuters) — Prime Minister Robert Menzies Monday night opened the new Mary Kathleen uranium project and its adjoining community which is perched on top of a mountain containing uranium.

KEEN INTEREST was shown by those who witnessed the preview performance of the Bolshoi Ballet motion picture in the Capitol Theatre yesterday afternoon. The film of the famous Russian ballet company's performance in London was produced in brilliant color by Rank Films. Looking over the program following yesterday's preview are, from left, Mrs. H. Callaway, Mrs. H. D. Pritchard and Lance Webber, theatre manager.

Bolshoi Ballet in Movie Masterpiece

By DUNC McWHIRTER

A big treat is in store for Pentictonites on November 4 and 5. On these two days the Capitol Theatre will present the film masterpiece, "The Bolshoi Ballet."

It will be a long time before local people will get anything of this calibre again. Magnificent photography in Eastman color takes the audience right into the Royal Opera House at Covent Garden and Croydon Davis Theatre to witness the Moscow company perform the world's finest ballet.

The film, shown in a special sneak preview yesterday, depicts the visit of the Moscow Bolshoi Theatre Ballet to London, giving the people of the West their first opportunity to see Russian ballet as the Russians themselves know it. The film caught all the glamour and emotion, and captured all the detail.

The presentation is divided in two parts — the first being six short pieces and the second, the two-act narrative ballet, "Giselle."

Madly rhythm-intoxicated are the dancers in the savage "Dance of the Tatars." It is this flashing, whirling, colorful kind of dance, built on a Russian theme, that originally won the West to ballet.

GREAT DELICACY

A softness and delicacy of mood is developed in the next two dances, "Spanish Dance," from the ballroom scene of Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake," is performed with a warm intensity, a mellow verve. In the next, "Spring Valse," arranged by Asaf Messerer, is the cold and clean impression of the trickle and then the gush of water as the ice melts after a hard Russian winter. It is a brilliant, soaring dance, using an acrobatic technique to convey the lyrical depth of emotion.

"Polonaise and Cracovienne," from Glinka's opera "Ivan Susanin," is perhaps the most Slavic of all the dances. A great and colorful sweep, laced with humour, is achieved in this stylized and formal dance. In it the Bolshoi Company show they are dancers of all ages, giving a powerful realism to the interpretation. The famous Gounoud ballet, "Walpurgisnacht," from "Faust," is a tremendously exciting piece. The dancing is most thrilling and full of verve, especially that of statuesque Raissa Struchkova. The climax of the sensuous ballet, when she leaps into the arms of Lapauri, her husband, is remarkable.

WORLD'S GREATEST

Galina Ulanova makes her first appearance of the film in Folie's "The Dying Swan," a brief, beautiful interpretative piece. Ulanova's interpretation is a heroic one. Her arms and hands move with a haunting quality as the swan dies, resisting death to the very end. It is a powerful poem. "The Dying Swan" is merely a short introduction of Galina Ulanova before her appearance as Giselle, along with Nicolai Fadeychev as Count Albert, in the great narrative ballet "Giselle."

"Giselle" is the tragic tale of maidens who die before their wedding. Legend has it they leave graves at night to dance in a vain attempt to find their lost happiness. Whoever meets these ghosts must beware, for they will compel him to dance with them until he dies.

Galina Ulanova is probably the greatest Giselle to dance before modern audiences. She brings a complete unity to the whole. She is the woman in love and hers is a love so great and so selfless that it survives the grave.

Bolshoi means big and this word well describes a company that has learned its dancing on the biggest stage in the world. These dancers are big in movement, big in personality: they tell a superb story.

The film will be showing at the Capitol Theatre in Penticton on November 4 and 5. Ticket sales for the first day will be in the hands of the Penticton Kinsmen and proceeds will go to the Happyvale Home for Retarded Children.

To Eliminate 'Abominable Concoction'

What Ald. Elsie MacCleave called "this abominable concoction which we give our residents and visitors to drink," is to be eliminated in Penticton next year according to plans laid by city council last night.

Ald. MacCleave, health committee chairman, strongly urged that estimates be prepared for extension of the domestic water standby intake on Okanagan Lake into deeper water and this be referred to next year's budget.

Council unanimously adopted the resolution after hearing Ald. MacCleave read a report from the local office of the South Okanagan Health Unit attributing the disagreeable taste of the city's domestic water during the past summer to the "relatively poor location" of the lake intake. Okanagan lake was called on to bolster the city's water supply for much of the past summer since the gravity supply in storage was nearly all needed for irrigation.

E. R. Gayfer, superintendent of works, thought the intake extension might cost 20 or 25 thousand dollars as "a wild guess."

Big Gaps in Water Plan of Skaha District

Penticton city council is hopeful that domestic water mains can be installed soon throughout the remainder of the Skaha Lake area not presently served by lines or signed up for them.

"I would like very sincerely to give them water if they want it," said Ald. H. M. Geddes, domestic water committee chairman, last night, "especially along South Main Street."

"Of course if they don't want it then the onus is on them should there be a water shortage or epidemic or something," he added. It was reported that efforts are being made to sign up the required majority of property owners for a petition to extend the 16-inch main south from Guelph Avenue and put in lines along South Beach Drive and Elm, Lee and Yorkton Avenues.

Meanwhile a council-initiative scheme is being launched for a trunk main along South Main Street from the forks to Elm Avenue. These lines would have virtually all the needy sections of the Skaha Lake area supplied.

Already installed are extension of the 16-inch main from Okanagan Avenue along Main Street and Skaha Lake Road to Guelph Avenue, an eight-inch main along Green Avenue to just past the school property and a line along Kinney Avenue.

NO APPEAL FILED
Approved for installation is a main along Brandon Avenue and along Ray Avenue West. Latter was approved last night when the city clerk reported that no appeals had been filed against the council initiative scheme for putting in the line on a local improvement basis.

Ald. P. F. Fraut noted that there have been very few connections so far to the new lines already installed, but Ald. Geddes was not worried about this being confident that further connections would be made before long.

Ten years ago tuberculosis meningitis, T13 which attacks the brain and spinal cord, was almost always fatal. The new drugs have been particularly effective against this type of T13.

But apparently people from New Zealand were getting no preferential treatment yesterday and the fellow was told to get moving.

Boulder Creek Access Road Near Completion

Construction of an access road to the Boulder Creek area so that storage dam possibilities there can be investigated next year, is now nearing completion, Penticton city council learned last night.

It was originally intended to spend only $1,000 on the road this year to determine unit costs so that estimates for the road could be included in next year's budget.

During the past week, however, Mayor C. E. Oliver got permission from a quorum of council to spend more money and put a second bulldozer on the job.

Last night council accepted a recommendation from the administration committee that an additional $1,500 be spent on the road this year. It was not known what part of the budget the money would come from.

The road, being constructed from the present Penticton No. One Dam, past Howard and Reed lakes, was inspected during the week by Mayor Oliver and Ald. F. P. McPherson.

Ald. McPherson said the road "should be pretty well into Boulder Creek, any day". First part of the construction was the worst with two creek crossings to contend with.

Mayor Oliver explained the extra money was needed to push the road as far as weather permitted.

Finding the extra $1,500 will be among the concerns of a budget review meeting of council tonight.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

LANDS UNDECIDED

The provincial lands department advised that disposal of properties created by the straightening of Okanagan River channel will not be considered until after the Okanagan Flood Control project is completed and the city's request for obtaining these properties will then be considered.

ORCHARD NEGLECTED

The district horticulturist advised that an orchard at Three Mile which was the subject of complaint, had the appearance of neglect, of being totally neglected with little or no attempt evident at controlling insect pests. There would be no danger of the Codling Moth spreading, however, until next spring.

BOOST PROTESTED

No action was taken on a protest from the local branch of the SPCA against the boost in dog licence fees that is to take effect Jan. 1. Effective on that date, licence fees for male dogs go up from two to three dollars per year with the fee for unspayed females remaining at $10. The SPCA contended the boost would mean a hardship on pensioners and other low income receivers who are pet owners.

SIGNS OKAYED

Council had no objection to a proposal from the high school students council to install a sandwich board bulletin sign for advertising sports and other school events, at the post office corner, providing the sign was not on the sidewalk. The federal government must also be approached, however, it was pointed out. Dr. R.

B. Earnshaw was given permission to install a directional sign on Main Street pointing to his veterinary hospital, providing he supplied the post on which the sign would be mounted and location was approved by the building inspector and traffic superintendent.

RED CROSS AWARD

A merit certificate from the Canadian Red Cross Society was received in recognition of city employees constituting the largest group of personnel in attendance at the Sept. 30 to Oct. 2 blood donor clinic. Their certificate is to be framed and hung in city hall.

TRUCK QUOTATIONS

Three quotations were received for supplying a truck for the electrical department. The bids, referred to the electrical committee, were: Parker Motors, $4,039; Valley Motors, $3,860; and Hunt Motors, $4,000.

CISTERN FILLING

An extra run of irrigation water for cistern filling in January or February, weather permitting, has been asked by the growers' irrigation committee, over and above the usual November or December run. The growers point out they are needing more water every year just as other city residents do.

FIREMEN'S PAY BOOST

Council approved a recommendation from the fire department committee that the volunteer firemen's callout pay be raised from $2.50 to $3 per fire retroactive to Oct. 1.

Fruit Growers Need a Little Housewives' Common Sense

Country Life, that well edited publication directed entirely to our agricultural population, has some kind and sensible things to say about Dr. James Marshall of the Summerland Experimental Farm. More than that, the kind and sensible things said touch on a sore spot in the fruit growing industry where profits are small and common-sense is sometimes lacking.

In our book, says the publication, Jim Marshall is one of the more courageous of the research types who work in this province on behalf of the farmer.

He is well and truly known for his "crusades" in the interior tree fruit industry. Although his chief concern is in the realm of entomology he doesn't let his work confine him when he sees a job to be done.

It may be partly his thrifty Scottish ancestry coming to the fore every once in a while which starts him on these "crusades." In any event, he is driven by an impelling urge to save his fellow growers some money.

In recent years, he sparked the drive which resulted in the acceptance by fruit growers of the new bulk bin in the orchards. This move will save the industry thousands of dollars besides allowing apples to reach destination in better condition.

Now, Dr. Marshall is showing the way in another sphere when he points out in the latest issue of Country Life that the grower is again wasting money by insisting on purchasing four-pound bags of insecticide.

Housewives wouldn't be so wasteful in their buying habits, so what motivates the man of the fruit ranch to disregard the savings which larger quantities of spray material could effect, he asks.

He has been assured the insecticide companies would welcome the purchases of larger-sized containers, if only the growers would show a preference for them.

Country Life is glad to take a lead with Dr. Marshall in pinpointing another saving which can be made in growers' operation at a time when the old cost-price squeeze has most producers in its grip.

The Herald is more than glad to follow the lead set by Dr. Marshall and Country Life. Before the fruit grower can hope to pull out of the hole he now finds himself in, he must take every possible action to cut down his expenses. The methods suggested by Dr. Marshall will make a good start.

In Full-Orbed Glory Hung...

For the past few nights the clear skies of the Okanagan have well rewarded the nocturnal walker for his old fashioned method of transportation.

Harvest moon, that natural manifestation of wonderment, has, like many another scenic beauty, fallen prey to the silver screen.

Each evening for the next few days, hardly before full dark has fallen, there is a glow of light over the eastern hills, as the Queen of Night makes her debut.

Orchards take on a silver tint as dappled leaves let through the pale rays. Shadows stretch across roadways and the valley lies bathed in light all too rarely seen.

But how many stand to watch the nightly majesty of the moon moving across the sky? Very few we venture.

Cars zoom by, drivers intent on getting home as quickly as they can before their favorite program comes on TV. Even these are but few, for most people have long since latched the door for the night and turned to the magic box for their nightly ration of entertainment.

A few young couples are out, sitting in parked automobiles and wondering, as so many thousands have before them, if "that orb maiden with white fire laden, whom mortals call the moon" has ever been appreciated before.

A few years ago the harvest moon was a sight well known to all. Young lovers, old lovers watched its splendid progress across the sky with wonder. Young children would lie abed and trace the pattern of their windows across the ceiling. But today she sails her voyage across the heavens in austere loneliness. The majority who watch her see her not through eyes of beauty, but through telescopes or with mathematical brains as they plot her course, not for poetry, but to plan the trajectory of a rocket.

The solitary ones who stand on hill tops and watch the first mist rising from a river, and listen to dogs bark on lonely farms, are part of a generation that has almost disappeared.

It Will Take a Miracle

From the beginning of the projected move of the dissident Sons of Freedom to Russia many people have had doubts as to the sincerity of this troublesome Doukhobor sect. Past history justified the doubts. Half a century of negotiation and conciliation with the Sons has been fruitless. Time and time again efforts to persuade them to obey the laws of the land have failed. Fanatics have continued to flout society and indulge in acts which elsewhere would have had short shrift.

The sect asked some months ago to be allowed to go to the land of their origin. Both provincial and federal authorities bent over backwards to accede to their request. The two governments promised financial aid to enable them not only to move but also to get settled in the Soviet Union. All they had to do was to file the necessary migration forms by a certain date. That date has come and gone and the deadline has not been met. It looks as though the whole thing is a fiasco.

One other aspect presents itself. The Sons claimed that Russia was willing to accept them, but after an initial tentative statement by the Soviet embassy in Ottawa not a single official word has been heard. The Sons of Freedom have presented no shred of evidence that Russia will take them in, and without this assurance the whole plan falls to pieces. It is quite possible Russia will never give such entry permission. It suits the Soviet book always to irritate and make things difficult for the West. It would be all against former practice for the Reds to agree, knowing as they do what a nuisance the Sons of Freedom have been to Canada.

Even so, the B.C. and federal governments are being very patient. The deadline has passed, but the door has been left open. If the Sons are genuine in their desire to leave they can still complete the arrangements and go, assuming that the Soviet Union agrees. One begins to think they never had any intention of going, and are simply indulging in one more manoeuvre typical of their obstinate and confused mentality. It seems as though nothing short of a miracle will ever enable B.C. to wave them adieu.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

England to Open Managers' School

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)

For the Herald

LONDON — England is going to have a college specially designed and operated for the training of managers of business and industry. The Ashbridge College, located near Berkhamstead in Hertfordshire, within easy distance of London, is being converted to provide month-long residential courses for such executives. When the renovations are completed, the college, which is 150 years old, will provide hotel-like comfort for those who attend these courses.

Director of Studies of the new type college is 42-year old Norman Rimmer. "The Aim," he said in an interview, is to train managers for business and industry. The college will, in effect, be a self-contained university for managers.

TO ACCOMMODATE 60
In this institution, bank managers will work and study shoulder to shoulder with factory, transport, industrial and insurance company managers. At the outset, there will be accommodation for 40 students, and this will be increased to 60 as more rooms are converted. Mr. Rimmer has some definite ideas as to the kind of courses to be given.

"When a man is made a manager," he said, "he is usually a specialist in a single branch of the firm. He has little knowledge of what goes on in the rest of the company. The courses to be given at Ashbridge College will broaden his mind to enable him to think of the wider responsibilities of his job."

Everything possible is being done to ensure the comfort of the managers in residence. Each will have a study-bedroom, with hot and cold water, a point for an electric shaver and a desk.

Said Mr. Rimmer, "We cannot expect them to spend a month tucked away in semi-dark rooms on camp beds. The whole tone of the college and course must be right to encourage stimulation and thought and discussion."

The response to the offer of this course in management has been excellent. It looks as if the college will be filled to capacity right from the start.

Nationalists to Get U.S. Missiles

By FORREST EDWARDS

TAIPEI, Formosa AP)—Nike-Hercules missiles, the most deadly U.S. anti-aircraft weapon, will be turned over to the Chinese Nationalists in a year to 18 months, when they are trained to use them.

Maj.-Gen. Leander L. Doan, commander of U.S. Army forces on Formosa, announced the transfer plans. He said Nationalist soldiers now are training in the United States to handle the missiles.

A battalion of U.S. Army missile personnel is building launching sites on Formosa for 48 of the five-ton supersonic missiles. They will assist in training a Nationalist missile battalion, Doan said. Nuclear warheads were not involved.

Doan said the missiles will be supplied under the U.S. military aid program that, already has given the Nationalists some of the latest weapons in the American arsenal. These include Sidewinder missiles that have helped Nationalist fighters score victories over Chinese Communist jets, supersonic F-100 Super Sabre fighters, Walker Bulldog tanks and heavy artillery.

Integrated units of American and Chinese soldiers might man some missile positions before the Chinese are fully trained, he said. He was unaware whether any agreement would prevent the Nationalists from moving some Nike-Hercules to the offshore islands once they took control of them.

The Communist cease-fire on the Quemoy islands continued into the 12th day of an announced three-week period. The Nationalists said the Communists continued to work on mainland gun positions but their activity did not appear to be feverish.

MOTORIST'S PRAYER

Grant me a ready hand, a watchful eye,
That none may suffer hurt as I pass by.
Thou gavest life—I pray no act of mine
May take away or mar the gift of Thine.

Shield those, dear Lord, who bear
My company
From fools, and fire and all calamity.
Teach me to use my car for Other's need,
Nor miss through lack of wit or
Love of speed
The beauties of Thy world—that
Thus I may,
With joy and courtesy go on my way.

DIVERSION

An economist reports that the era of easy money is over. For most of us it wasn't even an era, anyhow—more like a week-end when we were out of town.

Mr. Dulles must look back sadly to the days when he was pointed on only one brink at a time.

OTTAWA REPORT

Diefenbaker Wins Honors

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

OTTAWA — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is setting up many records. He has won the biggest popular vote ever accorded to one of our political leaders at a general election. He covers a larger mileage than any of his predecessors. He, and his Cabinet colleagues, must surely be working longer hours than former administrations. And he is heading for some new record in the receipt of tributes; not only has he always, in his former days as a private opposition member of parliament and more recently as Prime Minister, been singled out to be presented with testimonials, but he is now becoming our most sought after leader by universities wishing to present honorary degrees to him.

It is typical of the member for Prince Albert that he treasures perhaps most of all a simple plaque among the glitter of international honor and the glory of scholastic doctorates. This was presented to him earlier this month, on National Newspaper Boy Day. It was with very sincere pride and pleasure that he accepted this tribute and later showed it to his friends.

On this award of honor were inscribed these words: "55,000 newspaper boys of Canada pay homage and tribute to the most outstanding graduate of the daily newspaper carrier ranks; the Right Honorable John G. Diefenbaker, for superior diligence, integrity, enterprise and devotion to duty, which have distinguished him in his rise from his first business venture as a newspaper boy to today's Prime Minister."

START BUSINESS CAREER

There is a fine pride underlying that phraseology, ringing with the confidence of youth. And as he read of his "first business venture," I am sure that our modest and very human Prime Minister thought back to that day in 1911 when the carrier boy for the Winnipeg "Telegram," now the Winnipeg "Tribune," found himself barred from one of his regular sales pitches in Saskatoon, the B.C. Cafe. Hung on the door was a notice by the proprietors, the Chinese Marks brothers, "No dogs or newsboys admitted."

NELSON'S BLOOD

I forget how it happened that two such abstemious citizens as W. F. "Bus" Matthews and I happened to be discussing rum. But Nanaimo's M.P. mentioned to me that he had just learned the explanation of the slang term "Nelson's Rum" for Navy Rum. When the famous admiral was killed at the battle of Trafalgar, his body was placed in the largest rum cask available on the ship — a cask called a "leaguer." I know not why — and the cask was then filled with alcohol to preserve the body for the five weeks homeward voyage. The alcohol used was a mixture of two thirds brandy and one third spirit of wine. But as the container had originally been a rum cask, and not a brandy cask, the sailors assumed wrongly that rum had been used. Hence in the Navy arose the slang term for the ration of rum which was handed out to the sailors. Thanks to Bus for this interesting explanation of the old term. He received it, he says, from a very authoritative source: the Librarian of the British Admiralty.

P.E.I. PRIZE CROP

From the B.C. Cafe and alcohol, let us skip to the topic of food. Halpeque oysters, the pride and joy of Prince Edward Island and the favorite of oyster-lovers everywhere, are back in the fish shops at Ottawa, in huge barrels labelled Summerside. They sell here for $1.20 a dozen in the shops; in one large hotel here, they have increased in price to $1.50 for a half a dozen, served on the half shell. But they have obviously suffered severely from the disease which ravaged their availability last winter; they are not the huge, fat, succulent delights that I recall enjoying in Charlottetown. However, as our Minister of Fisheries, the Hon. Angus MacLean is himself a native of PEI and MP for the island constituency of Queens, we can be sure that every possible government help will be given to make that famous PEI product even better than ever. And I wonder why, now that we have a Maritimer as Minister of Fisheries, someone does not propose government aid for the Maritimes' chief industry by launching an "Eat more fish" campaign in central Canada? Salt-water fish is tender, tasty, easy to cook, and is above all cheap; it makes an ideal dietetic change from meat; and the thrifty housewife could help herself and the Maritimes by serving fish two or three times a week.

HOLIDAY THEATRE

Sir: Your editorial of October 25 should give much needed publicity to the situation that Holiday Theatre finds itself in, i.e. it must find new financial backing in order to continue. As the editorial points out, it would be a tremendous loss to the children of B.C. if it is allowed to disappear. Let the P.T.A. organizations who sponsor the theatre in the centres they visit, sound unceasingly grasping under the circumstances by making a profit on the show, I would like to point out that P.T.A. operated under a pre-arranged contract with the group whereby they were paid a given amount. This year in Penticton, through the efforts of a hard working committee from Central P.T.A., the P.T.A. was able to meet expenses and show a profit, but there was no knowledge of the theatre financial difficulties beforehand.

In the future, and knowing the circumstances it is probable that P.T.A. organizations would be glad to hand over all proceeds to Holiday Theatre, after meeting expenses, this amount would of course, depend on the size of the organization and the industry and ingenuity of its members. P.T.A. is not primarily a money raising organization or the ladies auxiliary to the school, and they sponsor Holiday Theatre in order to bring good live theatre to the children in their communities.

It is hoped that we can help find a way to have Holiday Theatre to continue to visit us each year and your editorial should go a long way towards this goal.

Yours truly,

United Church at Cawston Setting for Boulton-Swan Rites

Masses of richly colored autumn blooms banked the altar in the Cawston United Church for the pretty double-ring ceremony uniting in marriage Beatrice Diane, elder daughter of Mrs. Albert E. Swan of Cawston, and the late Mr. Swan, and John Walter, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Boulton of Cawston. Rev. L. L. Schuetz was the officiating clergyman.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Ralph Swan, wore a ballerina-length gown of white silk embroidered nylon net over taffeta, fashioned with fitted jacket featuring a tiny collar and long lily-point sleeves. Her chapel veil was clasped by a pearl tiara and complementing her ensemble were tiny pearl and rhinestone earrings and a gold locket, a gift from her father. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses.

The groom's sister, Miss Beverly Boulton of Chilliwack, was maid of honor, wearing a frock of yellow nylon taffeta and chiffon, while the bride's sister, Miss Shirley Ann Swan, as bridesmaid, wore an identically styled frock in aqua. Bronze roses were carried by the former and cream-colored roses by the bridesmaid.

Martin Schwickert of Tonasket, Washington, was best man. Raymond Frisch and Mark Cawston ushered. Mrs. T. A. Lusted was wedding organist.

S. R. Manery proposed the toast to the bride at the reception which followed in the Cawston community hall, and R. E. Walters was master of ceremonies. Those who assisted in serving during the refreshment hour were the Misses Elmhira Cook, Nancy Rish, Cissy Pitt, Karen Frisch, Karen Fox, Theresa Beck, Maureen Carleton and Shirley Lusted.

DIARY

THE PENTICTON V'S HIT the hockey trail again tonight when they travel to Kelowna to meet the Packers.

This will be the final meeting between the two clubs before the Packers leave to go overseas.

Also tonight, the George Agar-less Vernon Canadians will play Bill Hryciuk's Kamloops Chiefs in Kamloops.

A win for the V's and a loss for Vernon would put the locals into a second-place tie with the Agamen.

Friday night the Canadians will come to town. This will be the second appearance on Penticton ice this season for the Canucks.

In their first showing they dropped a 5-4 decision to Pat Coburn's V's. They valloped the V's 6-2 in the return match at Vernon.

FOUR PLAYERS WHO WERE involved in the affray at the Vernon-Kelowna game in Vernon last Saturday will pay through the nose for their actions.

Russ Kowalchuk will pay a fine of $15, while the other three, Wayne North, Frank King and Larry Plante, will pay $10 each.

Any further action of this sort will result in further fines and/or suspensions.

If any player is involved in such a fracas more than once, the penalties will be increased each time.

Teeth were put into league rules at the special league executive meeting in Vernon last night.

No nonsense will be tolerated from players in the future. If a player acts up, he will pay.

We feel that the league executive acted wisely and well in handing down their decisions.

ACTIONS OF THE FANS at the two Vernon-Kelowna games over the weekend led to a recommendation from league president Nicholson to "get tough" with these fans.

The move will afford protection to both fans and players. The fans will be protected from the players and vice versa.

We feel that the action taken last night will do much to clean up hockey in the OSAHL.

Control of the games belongs with the officials. Their position has been strengthened by these moves.

Sagging attendance at league games should improve under the new policy. Fans will get better hockey if brawling tactics are eliminated.

IT TAKES A MASTER story teller like Kenny McKenzie to tell it properly, but we'll try.

Seems that Kamloops Chiefs got a bench penalty last Saturday night after a fan behind the players' box called the referee a "blind bat" in a loud voice.

The referee spun around and announced his penalty to cries of protest from the Chiefs: "But it wasn't us, it was that fan up there," they howled.

Snapped back the ref: "Then teach your fans to behave better."

And that, according to Mr. McKenzie, is but one of the problems of a hockey club owner.

HUSTLING HABS SHOW NO MERCY

This is one of the few shots on goal Chicago net-minder Glenn Hall cares to remember of their recent game in Montreal. Boom-Boom Geoffrion misses the target on a breakaway, much to the relief of the beleaguered Hall. After the first period, Black Hawks' defence crumbled and Hall was bombarded by shots by the trigger-happy Canadian forwards. The powerful league-leading Habs swamped Hawks, 9-1, to drop the visitors to third place behind Detroit.

Blue Bombers Eliminate Stampede From Chase

WINNIPEG (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders and Edmonton Eskimos will meet Nov. 8 in the first game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union's two-game, total-points semi-final.

That was decided here Monday night when the pennant-winning Winnipeg Blue Bombers rolled over Calgary Stampede 37-10 in a listless game that wiped out Stampede's last chance to overtake the Riders for the third and final playoff berth.

Calgary finished one point behind Saskatchewan while Edmonton already had clinched second place. The regular season schedule winds up next Saturday when Winnipeg plays British Columbia Lions at Vancouver and Edmonton tangles with Saskatchewan in a playoff preview at Regina.

THREE TO LEWIS Speedy Leo Lewis romped for three Winnipeg touchdowns Monday night and end Ernie Pitts grabbed a record-breaking touchdown pass from Bomber quarterback Jim Van Pelt. Homebrew fullback Tony Kehler counted the other bomber TD while Van Pelt converted all five and kicked a single. Charlie Shepard added another single.

Barry Cyr took a nine-yard pass from quarterback Nobby Wirkowski in the last quarter for the only Calgary touchdown. Doug Brown converted, adding to his first-quarter field goal.

Stampede, obviously tired from their 29-29 tie with Saskatchewan Saturday, never were in serious contention. Bombers held quarter leads of 7-3, 20-3 and 37-3, twice capitalizing on Calgary fumbles for touchdowns.

CLINKSCALE INJURED Stampede halfback Ron Clinkscales was carried from the field early in the third quarter but doctors said after the game his injury, while painful, was not serious. He was hurt when a Bomber player landed on his back after a tackle.

Lewis counted all three of his touchdowns in the first half, opening the scoring by catching a 17-yard end zone pass from Van Pelt at 6:20 of the first quarter. The score capped a 95-yard march by Bombers.

Brown's 23-yard field goal ended the quarter's scoring.

Early in the second quarter, Wirkowski fumbled when hit on his own three-yard line and Bud Tinsley recovered for Winnipeg. Lewis whipped around right end for the touchdown on the next play. Van Pelt and Shepard booted successive singles.

A Calgary fumble on the Stampede's 13-yard line set the stage for Lewis' final touchdown. Bombers followed with a short kick-off recovered by Winnipeg's Norm Rauhaus. They marched downfield and Kehler slammed over from the one.

RECORD PASS PLAY In the third, all the scoring was packed into a thrilling pass-run play that saw Van Pelt's 60-yard toss gobbled up by Pitts who romped the rest of the way for a 107-yard touchdown. The distance bettered the previous mark of 104 yards set in 1955 when Calgary's Don Klosterman threw to Bill McKenna in a game against Saskatchewan.

Stampede only touchdown came at 1:02 of the fourth quarter after they had marched all the way from their own 13, mainly on passes.

Bombers held a slight territorial advantage, connecting on 14 of 25 passes for 276 yards and rolling on the ground for 149. They made 23 first downs to Calgary's 20. Stampede completed 17 of 31 passes for 236 yards, mostly in the late stages, and rushed for 117 yards.

Young Adds to Scoring Lead Latest Okanagan Senior Hockey League statistics released by league statistician, Mrs. H. A. Nicholson of Penticton, show that Kelowna Packers' Moe Young has increased his lead in the scoring race to seven points over linemate Mike Durban.

Young has eleven goals and eight assists for nineteen points. Durban has six goals and six assists for twelve points, two more than Bill Jones, also of Kelowna, and Bill Hryciuk of Kamloops.

Stella Swift Back In Bowling Form Stella Swift, long one of the top women bowlers in Penticton, was back in form last night in Senior City League play at Bowl-a-Mor Recreation.

She turned in ladies' high single and high three for the night with scores of 256 and 654. Bill Levko had men's high single with 322 and Richie Snider had 766 for the high triple.

In Monday Mixed League action, Al Patterson had 280 for high single and Lois Frost's 672 was good enough for high three.

Herald Angels had team high single with 993, while Dynamiters had 2749 for team high three.

Kwong Coming To Vancouver? VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Province says Normie Kwong may play for British Columbia Lions in the 1959 Western Interprovincial Football Union season.

The newspaper says the Edmonton fullback has been offered a business proposition in Vancouver that "he can hardly afford to turn down."

Kwong would find it to his advantage to accept the proposition, even if it meant giving up football, says the Province.

Kwong, a bachelor, is represented as planning to marry a girl here, where he has spent many off-season months in recent years.

Watson Hits Back At Johnny Bower NEW YORK (AP)—Phil Watson struck back at Toronto goalie Johnny Bower today. Bower claims Watson did not give him a fair chance to remain in the National Hockey League.

"He's full of baloney," bristled Watson, coach of New York Rangers. "I thought Gump Worsley was a better goalie three years ago and I still think so now."

Bower, turning in a creditable job with the Leafs in his second-go-round in the NHL, said Monday: "Watson got after me three years ago in training camp. And his big gripe is why I look behind me when a goal is scored. Where else should I look?"

League Approves
Stern Measures

By JIM HUMIE
VERNON — Delegates from all four clubs in the OSAHL voted unanimously in favor of supporting referees and league officials in their endeavors to "clean-up" Okanagan hockey.

In a special emergency session called by President H. A. Nicholson, the delegates upheld suspensions and fines recently imposed by Mr. Nicholson and called for even tighter crack-downs in future.

"I have but one complaint about the referees in this league, they're not tough enough," said Kenny McKenzie, owner of the Kamloops Chiefs. "Our referees tend to be weak sometimes and show an unhealthy fear of home-town crowds."

As far as my club is concerned, if my players break the rules I'd like to see the referees hit them hard. We don't want dirty hockey."

Prior to Mr. McKenzie's statement delegates had complained of the tendency of referees to look on as spectators as a minor offence.

"It's the most serious offence on the ice," Mr. Nicholson said. "I would like to recommend that any player using spearing tactics, or deliberately swinging at an opponent with his stick — whether he misses or connects — should be severely punished."

STERN MEASURE Mr. Nicholson suggested a five-minute penalty for spearing and a match misconduct for a deliberate attempt to hit another player.

er with a stick. Referee-in-chief Cliff Greyell, said he had already advised his referees to clamp down on such tactics. "We have discussed just this issue at great length and in future I can assure you we shall punish such infractions severely."

Penticton's delegation, club president Tony Blole and treasurer Evans Lougheed, suggested games could be controlled better with one referee and two linesmen rather than by the present system of two referees.

Mr. Greyell and Mr. Nicholson both spoke in favor of the present system pointing out that the season was but two weeks old. "Give the referees a few more games under the present system and I don't think you'll have any complaints," Mr. Greyell said. The majority of clubs were in favor of retaining the two referee system.

COACHES BARRED In future any coach suspended by league officials will automatically be barred from his club's dressing room and the bench during the period of his suspension.

The position of a playing-coach was clarified with delegates in favor of the league president retaining the power to decide whether a playing coach should be suspended as just a player, or as player and coach. If a suspension was issued against the player, the man could still take his place on the bench as coach, but could not be in uniform.

Suspensions and fines issued after the two weekend games between Kelowna and Vernon were upheld by the entire body.

Reg. Betts, Vernon trainer has been suspended indefinitely by Mr. Nicholson. Russ Kowalchuk, Kelowna, has been fined $15 for his part in the affray, and Wayne North, Frank King and Larry Plante have been fined $10 each. Mr. Nicholson said if players once fined persisted in unnecessarily rough play he would increase the fines each time a case came before him.

Suspension will also be issued with a heavier hand with the player being cut from his club's payroll during the suspension.

"I don't like suspensions because you punish the entire club as well as the individual player," Mr. Nicholson said. "But I shall not hesitate to impose them if rough play continues. If the players refuse to learn, the penalties will become progressively stiffer."

Thinks Johansson Could Beat Floyd NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight Bert Whitehurst, who has trained with both, firmly believes Sweden's undefeated Ingemar Johansson will dethrone world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson if they ever meet.

"Don't let anyone under-rate that Johansson," said Whitehurst today. "I saw him knock out Eddie Machen in the first round. It was no fluke, either. I predicted Johansson would beat him and I think he could beat him 10 out of 10 times."

Johansson is a very good fighter. He has a good left jab, a sneaky fast and powerful right hand and an excellent left hook. And he can take a good punch, too, if you hit him. But he's hard to hit square."

"I predicted he would beat Machen," said George Gainford, Whitehurst's manager. "He'll give Patterson the fight of his life, too. Johansson has a way of waving his left hand when he jabs at times. He does that to suck in an opponent."

OUTDOOR HOCKEY RINK

Estimated Cost
Runs to $35,000

Construction of an open-air artificial-ice rink in the area immediately behind the present Penticton Memorial Arena will cost a minimum of roughly $35,500, therefore any plans to develop this area should be geared for 12 months use including facilities for roller skating, square dancing, round dancing, tennis, industrial displays, box lacrosse, and other activities.

This is the recommendation of L. E. Edwards, arena manager, to a suggestion that an open-air kiddies' rink be constructed to alleviate the growing shortage of ice time for minor hockey in the arena.

Mr. Edwards, basing his figures on an ice surface 180 feet by 80 feet, gives approximate costs as follows:

Plastic pipe and sleepers, $4,000; asphalt, five-inch thickness, $6,000; excavation and fill, crushed rock, sand, etc., $2,000; overhead supplying brine to pipes, $3,000; brine cooler, $4,000; reserve brine tank, $1,500; brine pump, $1,000; changes to present system, $1,000; condenser, $4,000; ice boards, players' boxes, etc., $2,000; lights, switch panels, etc., $2,000; professional installation labor, $3,000; common labor, $2,000. Total, $35,500.

Over-Anxious Fans Must Go.

VERNON — OSHL President H. A. Nicholson called for a "get tough" policy at last night's special league meeting on fans who become too involved in hockey games.

"We seem to have fans in every arena who sit behind the players' bench, not just to heckle but to heap abusive language on a player's head," Mr. Nicholson said.

"Under such circumstances it becomes extremely difficult for a player to hold his temper. I would suggest that if you have any such fans in the trouble-making category that you ask them to take a seat somewhere else in the arena. If they refuse then ban them entirely. The game will be better off without them."

DESIGNS CANADIAN FLAG

A "Canadian flag" will be seen in 12 countries, including those behind the Iron curtain, and it will be the design of Gerald Peters, 40-year-old English-born Canadian. He is president of the Piccadilly club, composed of British newcomers to Canada who intend to tour Europe next year in their bus "Jenny", which will fly the Peters-designed flag wherever it goes. "We're going to tell everyone we meet that this is Canada's flag," says Peters. "And if it hurts anyone's feelings let him design one himself."

TCA Will Call Six Witnesses

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Trans-Canada Air Lines will begin its attempt to knock out the possible competition of Canadian Pacific Airlines on transcontinental service.

After a week of sniping at CPA evidence in cross-examination, the publicly-owned corporation will begin the introduction of its own evidence in an effort to preserve its monopoly on main line domestic service.

The hearings before the air transport board are expected to last at least another fortnight, the length depending on the degree of cross-examination. TCA is expected to call about six witnesses.

SAYS INEFFICIENT
As CPA closed out its main case Monday, President Grant McConachie termed TCAs domestic operations "very inefficient, but he said the government company would be well able to stand the limited form of competition his company proposes.

He said the competition should uncover new traffic and be good for the country generally, as well as for the airlines.

For the first year of CPA operation on a series of routes between Montreal and Vancouver, he predicted revenue of $12,000,000 on passengers and some $900,000 on cargo. There also was a potential $1,200,000 a year in mail revenue.

"GOOD FOR CANADA"
Asked whether it would be good for the country if CPA should throw Trans-Canada into a temporary deficit position through competition, he said it would be, through highlighting TCA "inefficiency" and bringing on an investigation of its operations.

Support for CPA's application came Monday from the Alberta government, in a brief statement to the board. Some of CPA's proposed services would pass through Edmonton.

Pacific Western Airlines also introduced evidence in support of its previously-announced backing of the CPA application. PWA previously had applied for a transcontinental franchise but withdrew the application.

Russia Rejects Western Test Suspension Plan
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — (AP) — Western diplomats at the UN grew increasingly fearful today that the Soviet Union plans to scuttle Big Three negotiations for an inspection system to enforce a ban on nuclear weapons tests.

The apprehension resulted from Russia's flat rejection of the U.S.-British call for a one-year suspension of nuclear weapons tests beginning with the opening of the Big Three talks in Geneva Friday.

KREMLIN INSISTS
Valerian Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister, told the UN's 81-power political committee Monday night that Russia is prepared to contribute "in every possible way" to success of the talks. He made plain, however, that the Kremlin is sticking to its insistence on an unconditional agreement to suspend tests "immediately and forever."

The Western nuclear powers demand an inspection system to detect any violation before agreeing to any permanent suspension. Zorin served notice to keep on with its nuclear weapons tests until their number equals the total the U.S. and Britain have set off since last March 31. On that date Russia announced it was suspending tests, then resumed them Sept. 30.

Zorin's statement brought quick reaction from the West.

90 Percent Sign Up in Ontario's Hospital Scheme
TORONTO (CP) — Ontario's campaign to sign up residents in the provincial hospital insurance plan is an outstanding success, the Ontario Hospital Association was told Monday. The plan takes effect Jan. 1.

Premier Frost announced at the association's annual convention that better than 90 per cent of Ontario residents are now enrolled by the Ontario hospital services commission. The latest figure was 5,298,422 of the province's 5,800,000 population.

The premier spoke to the opening of the four-day OHA meeting being attended by 3,000 representatives of the El Alamein reunion Fri-

U.S. Ruling Expected on Canadian Gas Imports

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — The Federal Power Commission is expected this week to say whether it is prepared to allow natural gas to be imported from the Trans-Canada pipeline and sold in the United States.

A month ago, the betting was that the commission would favor the importation of Canadian gas to service several hundred fuel-hungry communities in North Dakota, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan.

Today, the issue is by no means certain and it would surprise no one if the commission turned down the importation plan.

What produced the switch in odds was a public hearing two weeks ago at which the full five-man commission heard arguments on a plan by Midwestern Gas Transmission Company, a U.S. pipeline, to import 204,000,000 cubic feet of Canadian gas daily and market it in the four-state upper Midwest area.

WAS FAVORED

Up to that point, the Midwestern case seemed to be favored after more than two years of study by the commission. The commission six months ago said it did not oppose the use of Canadian gas to heat American homes — an argument posed against the importation by U.S. coal interests.

But the public hearing produced a strongly buttressed attack on the importation plan by Harry L. Albrecht, chief of the commission's own legal staff, who argued that Trans-Canada pipe line company has not a "single cubic foot" of gas available for export to the U.S. and has not enough under contract even for its own Canadian needs.

Albrecht supported his argument with figures from a report on the Trans-Canada situation issued by the Alberta gas conservation board.

The commission, which indicated it would announce a decision by Nov. 1, called the hearing to consider the merits of the Midwestern plan and those of two competing U.S. pipelines — Northern Natural Gas Company and Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company — which seek to service the same market area with American gas.

TAP THE LINE

Midwestern proposes to tap the Trans-Canada pipeline at a point on the U.S.-Canada border near Emerson, Minn., drawing 204,000,000 cubic feet a day to serve the northern section of the four-state market. It plans to get another 204,000,000 cubic feet a day from Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, its parent corporation, to feed the southern section.

Albrecht conceded that the Midwestern project is sounder than those of its competitors but said the defect lies in two words: "no gas."

"Trans-Canada, to summarize, does not have a single cubic foot of gas under contract which is available for the American market, and that is the great mystery in this case."

Albrecht said the Alberta board's report placed Trans-Canada's proven reserves at 4,300,000,000 cubic feet, approximately one-half of what it needs for its own Canadian markets on a 20-year basis. The board, he added, found Trans-Canada short by 1,500,000,000 cubic feet of what the board termed "immediate contractable future requirements."

FULFILL CONTRACTS
Harry Welch of Houston, Tex., counsel for Trans-Canada, argued that new gas contracts signed recently had contributed heavily to Trans-Canada's potential supply and said the Canadian firm expected to fulfill all its contracts, including that with Midwestern.

Harry Littman, counsel for Midwestern, said Trans-Canada has "a firm, adequate supply of gas."

Should Midwestern obtain an import permit from the commission, it still remains for Trans-Canada to get an export permit from the Canadian government.

The Borden Royal Commission on Energy Resources in its interim report issued Saturday recommended export be allowed "under licence and that the Trans-Canada application be considered on its merits."

MAY RULE OUT

Gas industry sources here suggest the U.S. commission might rule out the Canadian importation and authorize Midwestern to service the southern section of the four-state area, Northern Natural the northern section and Michigan Wisconsin the eastern area.

Or it might throw out all three applications and order the companies to revise their projects and apply again.

Again, in view of the stand of its own legal staff, it might call for fresh evidence of the ability of Trans-Canada to provide sufficient gas for the American market.

'Christianity Has Made Idol Of Holy Bible'
WINNIPEG (CP) — Rev. Emlyn Davies of Toronto, president of the Canadian Council of Churches, says Christianity has made an idol of the Bible.

He told the council's biennial meeting Monday night that without knowing it Christianity has "set up the book of the Lord above the Lord of the book and... the church of the Lord above the Lord of the church."

This was the reason for the confusion of denominations dividing the Christian church.

"ALL GUILTY"
"We are all guilty of tearing the seamless robe of Christ," he said, "and we must all carry the shame of our pride, our sins, our stubborn self-will and our common denial of the fellowship of Christ."

"The limits to which this whole schismatic practice can lead is to be seen most dramatically on this continent where over 150 Christian bodies all claim to be in some measure more faithful reproductions of the primitive church than any other."

Mr. Davies, a baptist minister, said the evil he attacked was not diversity, nor was the cure for it mere practical co-operation or physical union.

FELLOWSHIP KEY
He said recognition of ones fellowship with other Christians practising their faith according to different traditions is the important element in achieving Christian unity.

He cautioned delegates against becoming absorbed in the social and political advancement of their respective denominations, which he said has nothing to do with essential Christianity.

Some 120 delegates representing 11 denominations are attending the week-long convention.

Ike Labels Democrats 'Spendthrifts'

NEW YORK (CP) — President Eisenhower carried his congressional campaigning to New York today after a renewed attack on Democrats he described as spendthrifts and visionaries.

But with the elections for Congress just a week away, voting day is Nov. 4, former president Harry S. Truman said Democratic prospects appear "almost too good to be true."

Commenting on a poll prediction of possibly sweeping Democratic gains, Truman told reporters in St. Louis Monday:

"They said the same thing about the Republicans in 1948, you remember."

That was the year Truman upset Republican Thomas E. Dewey, whom most polls had tabbed as the favorite.

LIKE FIGHTING

Eisenhower flew to New York Monday night after ripping into the Democrats anew in an 18-state television address in Pittsburgh.

In the same fighting technique he unveiled in California last week, Eisenhower tore into the opposition as being a divided party which he said could promise only a feuding, futile deadlocked government.

A crowd estimated at 3,500 cheered lustily as the president credited his administration's economic policies with whipping the recession.

"The formula of the radical wing of the opposition," he said, "was a resort to panic and a raid on the taxpayers dollar."

MEETS ROCKEFELLER

On his arrival in New York, Eisenhower was greeted by Nelson Rockefeller and Representative Kenneth Keating, New York Republican candidates for governor and U.S. senator.

In Chicago, Adlai Stevenson said Congress is selling a vacuum created by "the failure of leadership in the White House."

The 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate urged election of a Democratic Congress—the Democrats hold control by a slim edge at present—and told a party rally Monday:

"During the next two critical years, it is to Congress that we must look for the new ideas and impetus that we need to advance our democracy at home and restore its leadership."

Mine Disaster Fund Reaches $175,000 Mark

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

More than $175,000 has been collected in the National Springhill Disaster Fund for the wives and children of miners killed in last Thursday's coal mine upheaval.

The Nova Scotia government heads the list of contributors with an initial $50,000. The New Brunswick government and the City of Toronto follow with $25,000 each. The Province of Manitoba, the City of Winnipeg and the United Mine Workers of America have each given $10,000.

ALL HELP

Service clubs, youth groups, union locals, the Canadian Legion, churches and villages and hamlets from Newfoundland to British Columbia are taking phoned pledges, canvassing homes, passing the hat and appropriating group funds for donations ranging from $5 and $10 to several thousand.

The United Church of Canada has given $7,500 and the Presbyterian Church in Canada $5,000.

The Canadian Quo Vadis Foundation, operating a round-the-clock receiving centre at Toronto, said Monday night its cash and phoned pledges total $18,000, and phoned pledges total $18,000,

LEAKING GAS BELIEVED CAUSE OF BLAST

Fire chief Maynard Dolman said late Monday investigation of Saturday's mid-town explosion in Ottawa has been concentrated on an unused gas inlet pipe in the basement of a building at the centre of the blast. However, he said it has still not been determined which came first; the gas or the blast. In another development, Mayor George Nelms appointed Maj-Gen. F. Worthington, former federal civil defence co-ordinator, to head a five-man investigating committee. The explosion wrecked a nine-storey government building, injured 49 persons and caused millions of dollars damage.

Uncertainty Surrounds Final Hour of Search

By HARRY CALNEK
Canadian Press Staff Writer
SPRINGHILL, N.S. (CP) - The search for bodies in death-filled Cumberland No. 2 colliery continued at an agonizingly slow pace today. A greater barrier of rock still entombed 72 miners missing in the depths. Progress through rock and debris left by Thursday night's thunderous underground upheaval was so slow there was no definite indication when the main group of men might be reached. Occasionally bare-faced miners stopped their digging to free bodies of dead workers from the logged tunnels. Twenty-one bodies have been recovered and identified. About 55 of the missing men are believed behind rock 13,000 feet from the pithead. Of the 174 men trapped in North America's deepest colliery, 81 have been rescued, including 15 injured. TOLL PROBABLY 93 There was every indication the death toll would reach 93, making the second mining disaster here in two years the worst Canadian coal pit tragedy since 1914. The first bodies were brought up from the 13,000-foot level Monday night. One was that of Charles lie Burton, first of 88 men to be rescued from the adjoining No. 4 colliery in 1956 when a November explosion killed 39 miners. Efforts to hack a hole into the main 13,000-foot working area failed early today. The early breakthrough hoped for by Harold Gordon, coal chief with the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, did not materialize.

NO HOPES Mr. Gordon told a press conference Monday he did not expect to find any of the men alive. A few women waited at the pithead Monday night but today only the rescue crews, a few reporters and mine officials were present.

The burrowing miners worked under hazardous conditions. In places the bump hurled the floor toward the ceiling, leaving only 10 inches of space. "There's no room down there," miner Stan Pashkoski said. "We have to break our shovel handles. I only wish they would let one newspaperman go into the mine. I think the world should know what it's like down there."

EARLIER BUMP Mr. Gordon said the searching miners were "beyond praise." He also said a bump had shaken the No. 2 mine 45 minutes before the major upheaval Thursday.

While the tunnelling continued Springhill buried more of its dead. Six funerals were held Monday. Six more were scheduled Sunday, one on a wind-swept hill near the graves of many of the 39 killed in 1956.

Film Monsters Are Humorless

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One of the earliest of the movie monster deplores the current humorless crop of boogymen.

The speaker is Claude Rains, back in Hollywood after a seven-year absence. The suave British-born actor wants a monster, really, matter of fact, you didn't even see him. He played The Invisible Man.

Comparing The Invisible Man to the present-day horror films, the actor commented:

"These new monsters have no sense of humor. They just out for pure fight, and I think they miss a trick."

Rains recalled vividly how he was chosen for the unique role. A longtime stage actor, he had been tested for a film contract. He did a couple of scenes from plays in his stage style.

"When I saw the test, I was horrified. I stank. I knew immediately that I had the slightest chance for a film career."

Fox felt the same way. But at the time, Universal was searching everywhere for an actor to play The Invisible Man. Rains test was among those reviewed by the studio. Said director James Whale: "I don't care what he looks like; that's the voice I want."

I have long wondered exactly how much work he did in the picture. He explained that he did all the scenes which showed him clothed. He was seen for a brief flash at the end when he died and materialized.

The invisible stuff was done by the movie trick makers, and it required some fantastic planning.

"The footprints in the snow were a production in themselves. Rains said. They had to cut holes in the stage the size of footprints. The wood was replaced and fastened with wires which led out of camera range. Then the whole set was covered with corn flakes or gypsum or whatever they used for snow in those days. When the camera rolled, the wires were pulled one-by-one and the footsteps appeared."

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1♥ Pass 2♠
Opening lead—five of hearts.

This is the way it happened. I was right there. North-South got to four hearts. West maintaining cautious silence. A trump was opened. South won and returned a spade. West made his last discarding a low diamond, and led another trump.

Declarer won, played a club to the ace, a diamond back to the king, the jack of clubs, finessed, and lost to the queen. East returned a spade. West made his A-Q, and South was down one. When the fireworks started South claimed he was unlucky to find three cards badly placed—the queen of clubs and ace-queen of spades.

North, a player inclined to do better after the play of the hand than during it, maintained South had played badly, and that the club finesses should never have been taken.

He argued that South should have played the A-K of clubs, and if it turned out West had the queen, the contract was still sure to make. West could then be handed his club trick, but with West on lead, the king of spades could not be successfully attacked and the contract would make.

Since the queen of clubs would have dropped on this line of play South would have made six instead of going down one at four.

Of course, as sometimes happens in bridge games, the discussion of the hand was more heated and more vociferous than our brief description indicates, but essentially the facts were as outlined.

North's point was good, and his suggested method of play was clearly better than South's. But in our view, both parties were wrong.

Declarer had a sure thing going for him. All he had to do after three rounds of trumps was to lead the king of spades, forcing out the ace, and later lead the ten of spades, forcing out the queen.

This would establish dummy's jack of spades, on which a club could be discarded to insure ten tricks.

Bridge is not as complicated as some people make it out to be.

McMahon Denies Westcoast Gas Sold Cheaper to U.S. Distributors

NEW YORK (CP)—Frank McMahon, president of Westcoast Gas Company Limited, said Monday gas transmitted by the firm's pipeline system is "definitely not being sold to American distributors at a lower price than to Canadian distributors."

McMahon was commenting in a statement on a report by the Borden energy commission. That statement said:

"We in Westcoast welcome the finding of the Borden commission that Canadian natural gas is available for export on a fair and reasonable basis. This is one step in the formulation of a clear and workable gas policy which is needed for the orderly continued development of Canada's natural gas industry."

The commission refers to the old charge that Canadians are paying higher prices than

Sommers Trial Enters Final Stage

By H. L. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VANCOUVER (CP)—The marathon Sommers bribery-conspiracy case today entered its final stages.

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson continued his summation for the nine men and three women of the assize court jury who have spent 71 long days hearing evidence in the trial whose major figure is former forests minister Robert Sommers.

He told them Monday that they should take the four months of evidence in what is already B.C.'s longest criminal trial and put it through the wringer of truth. Only the facts should govern their decision.

The 60-year-old judge again warned jurors not to talk to anyone about the case, he said.

"We are now right at the heart of the matter and I'm sure you don't want anything to happen that could result in a mistrial."

CONSPIRACY FIRST
His first charge is on the main count of conspiracy against Sommers, three timber executives and four firms. The jury is expected to be asked for a conspiracy verdict late Wednesday and later will be instructed to bring in verdicts on substantive charges involving the alleged donors of bribes and finally on the group of charges involving Sommers as the alleged recipient of bribe money.

The former minister resigned his portfolio two years ago but is still Social Credit MLA for Rossland-Trail. The Crown in a 20-count indictment charges that he split thousands of dollars with influential influence in the granting of certain forest management licences.

OTHERS CHARGED
Charged with him are H. W. Gray, John Gray, Charles D. Schultz, the C. D. Schultz Company Limited, Pacific Coast Services Limited, Evergreen

Lumber Sales and B.C. Forest Products Limited.

All of the accused face the main count of conspiracy. In addition, Sommers faces seven counts of accepting bribes involving the passage of some $8,000. H. W. Gray faces 10 counts of bribery involving some $14,000 and C. D. Schultz faces nine bribery counts involving the alleged passage of some $12,000. John Gray faces four bribery counts, the Pacific and Schultz firms nine each, B.C. Forest six and Evergreen Lumber three. The Crown charges that the latter was actually a dummy firm through which money was passed to Sommers while he was in the cabinet.

Altogether some $16,000 is involved.

Mr. Justice Wilson began his charge after prosecutor Victor Dryer wound up a five-day address to the jury.

TWO PRINCIPLES
The judge put to the jury the two fundamental propositions of Anglo-Saxon law—that a man is presumed innocent until proven guilty and that an accused person should not be convicted where reasonable doubt exists. But in conspiracy charges circumstantial evidence usually was the main type and the jurors should consider whether it built up into the sort of pattern charged by the Crown.

In conspiracy, the judge said, "The plot is the thing." It was not simply a question of participation in illegal acts, but a question of whether there had been "participation in a common design."

Prosecutor Dryer hit back at defence attacks on the credibility of Crown witness Charles Eversfield, who took numerous documents from Pacific files when he left his bookkeeper's job there in March, 1955. These documents now form the basis of the Crown's case.

Mr. Dryer told the jury there was too much documentary evidence for Eversfield to be telling anything but the truth. He discounted, too, the defence accusation that the bookkeeper had tried to blackmail the Gray brothers for $10,000 or a life partnership in the Pacific firm. "If the blackmail story is true then why didn't they go to the police?" he asked.

"Perhaps it was their own guilty consciences that led to the remark about blackmail. By that I mean there was room for blackmail."

He told the jurors they were not there to try Eversfield for blackmail. Even if the chief Crown witness had attempted blackmail it would not make the accused any less guilty.

He said Eversfield came through 11 days on the witness stand unshaken in his story about the alleged bribery-conspiracy.

Ottawa to Hear 'Sons' Delegation

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—The Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, unable to persuade the British Columbia government to allow them more time for registering to go to Russia, have decided to try their luck with Ottawa.

Peter Elasoff, secretary of the fanatical religious sect, and William Podovnikoff, a member of the fraternal council, said Monday the governing council had voted to send a delegation to the capital.

The decision was taken at a meeting of the council Sunday to which Elasoff and Podovnikoff reported on their unsuccessful mission to Victoria last week.

The mission failed to convince B.C.'s Attorney-General Robert Bonner that the Freedomites should be granted until Nov. 15 to sign up for their proposed exodus to Siberia, which the federal and provincial governments have offered to finance. The deadline had been Oct. 21.

Mr. Bonner told the Freedomite delegation future negotiations would depend on Russia's acceptance of the sect, which has not been forthcoming.

Elasoff and Podovnikoff did not say when the delegation will leave for Ottawa.

Diefenbaker Starts On World Tour

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker sets off today on a world trip aimed at strengthening Commonwealth ties and building friendship for Canada in 35 countries.

Members of the diplomatic corps and a 50-man RCMP guard of honor were to see him off. The air force's C-54 luxury airliner, with about 34,000 miles of travel ahead, was scheduled to leave at noon.

Mr. Diefenbaker's first stop will be New York where he speaks tonight at the Pilgrims Dinner, an event sponsored by an Anglo-American friendship organization.

54-DAY TOUR
Wednesday he heads across the Atlantic on his 54-day tour of the United Kingdom, Western Europe, south Asia, Australia and New Zealand.

Already there have been tentative thoughts by government officials about another major tour by the prime minister—to Africa next year. But no firm planning has been done for it.

Mr. Diefenbaker has said his present tour is based on the desire to "get to know your neighbor better."

He has emphasized the need of building new "pathways of understanding" between the West and Asia.

Three weeks of his tour will be spent visiting Pakistan, India, Ceylon, Malaya and Singapore.

DISCUSS FOOD BANK

He has given little indication of the subjects he may discuss, beyond his desire to set up an international food bank to store surplus crops and provide food to needy peoples.

Other subjects which may com-

up are Europe's free trade area,

European defence, Colombo Plan aid in south and southeast Asia and the difficult question of diplomatic recognition of Communist China.

Mr. Diefenbaker's six-day stay in the United Kingdom, starting Thursday, will include at least two consultations with Prime Minister Macmillan, a luncheon with the Queen next Tuesday, a major speech that night to the Commonwealth and Empire Industries Association, and a weekend spent privately in Scotland.

TO MEET DE GAULLE

His eight days in Europe will include brief one-day visits to France and Rome, in which he will have his first meeting with Premier de Gaulle and renew acquaintances with Italian Prime Minister Fanfani, and a 2½-day formal visit to Bonn. The West German visit follows the state visit to Canada earlier this year by President Theodor Heuss.

The prime minister also will visit the Canadian Army Brigade headquarters at Soest, Germany, and RCMP fighter bases in Frankfurt, Crotz and Tengen and Marville. He will attend Remembrance Day ceremonies at the latter base before flying to Rome.

In Asia he will spend five days Nov. 14-18 in Pakistan, and the next five days in India. He will fly to Ceylon Nov. 24-28, then fly to Malaya for four days and Singapore for one day.

A five-day visit in Australia will start Dec. 3, only 11 days after the Australian elections.

During a week-long tour of New Zealand Mr. Diefenbaker will have a three-day holiday in the resort area of Wairakei before crossing the Pacific to Canada. He will reach Ottawa a scant five days before Christmas.
